

Christine B. Nagawa

Lecturer in Forestry products. She holds a PhD (Doctor rerum naturalium technicarum) from the University of Natural Resources and Life Sciences, Vienna (BOKU), MSc. in Biochemistry from Makerere University and BSc Education from Mbarara University of Science and Technology. She teaches Biochemistry, Tree Physiology, Pulp and Paper Technology and Wood chemistry. Her research interests are in essential oils and natural products chemistry, wood preservation and alternative medicine to overcome antimicrobial resistance.