

Nalwanga Faridah Sendagire

Assistant Lecturer in the Department of Environmental Management and Department of Geography, Geo- Informatics and Climatic Sciences. She holds BA Environment Management and Masters in Development Studies from Norwegian University of Science and Technology and Post Graduate Diploma in Human Resource Management from Uganda Management Institute. She is doing PhD and her research focuses on Gender and Climate Change Adaptation among Pastoral Communities in the Cattle Corridor. She has won one research grant and attracted collaborations with Makerere University.