

Brenda B. Birungi

Lecturer in the Department of Forestry, Biodiversity and Tourism. She holds BA Education (Geography), MA in Land use and Regional Development and PhD in Tourism (Gender and Tourism) from the University of Otago, Dunedin, New Zealand. She teaches Sustainable Tourism Development & Tourism Resources Management. She is a Gender trainer and Mentor. She is a Fellow of the African Women in Agricultural Research and Development (AWARD), Fellow of the International Food Policy Research Institute under GAAP2 project, Member of the International Association for Feminist Economics (IAFFE), Member of the Society for Gender Professionals (SGP) and an Associate Coordinator, Trainer and Mentor for Gender Responsive Researchers Equipped for Agricultural Transformation (GREAT). She has published papers in Journal of Sustainable Tourism, and a reviewer for Journal of Sustainable Tourism, and Journal of Tourism and Hospitality Research. She is an external PhD examiner for the Department of Tourism, University of Otago, New Zealand. Brenda was recently appointed a Consultant/Regional Field Expert for Africa by the United Nations World Tourism Organization (UNWTO) to be part of the global team to write the 2nd Global Report on Women in Tourism.